AUGUST CRIMINAL COURT

BUSINESS ATTENDED TO SATURDAY TO CLEAR WAY FOR COURT

A Number of Criminal Cases Terminated and Several Prisoners Sentenced.

At a court on last Saturday morning to dispose of all current business before the regular August court beginning on Monday, the following proceedings were had before President Judge S. McC. Swope and Associate Judges W. Howard Dicks and Leo A. Sneringer.

The administrators and executors accounts as advertised were confirmed with the exception of accounts in estate of Abram Trostle and C. Lemuel Myers, both of which were continued.

John C. Chronister was discharged as administrator of Mary L. Chronister late of Hampton.

Wm. H. Cullison was discharged as administrator of Amos Cullison, late of Franklin township.

In the matter of order made on petition of John R. Kuhn, that certain funds in Sheriff's hands should be retained by the Sheriff pending appeals to the Superior Court, was opposed by a motion to strike off order on ground that appeals were not taken within time to be superceded and matters in dispute were ordered for argument on Sept. 16.

Account of Lewis Seil and H. W. Kline assignees of Wm. Weisensale was confirmed and schedule of distribution was also confirmed, paying 41 per cent.

Rule on heirs of Henry Hartman to show cause why record securing dower should not be satisfied was made absolute. The dower having been paid but record not being satisfied.

A child, John Crilly, had been indentured to James M. Saunders and Mary Alice, his wife, by the Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania and upon their petition with the consent of the Society the child—a boy—was adopted by decree of court, to be called John Sanders.

The matter of an order of sale of the assigned real estate of Emma Johns was argued. A motion had been made to revoke order of sale on the ground that Emma Johns was not a farmer and was not entitled to the protection given that class of citizens but would come under the bankrupt class. A further argument of the matter was ordered for Sept. 16.

The commissioners appointed to inquire into condition of Nettie Slaybaugh, wife of R. C. Slaybaugh reported in favor of the confinement of party in the State Hospital for the Insane at Harrisburg.

Divorce was granted in case of Mabel Baker vs. Peter L. Baker, on ground of desertion. A case of bastardy in the Quarter Sessions Court was terminated some years ago by the marriage of parties by Justice of the Peace J. L. Hill. Next day defendant enlisted in the Navy.

The District Attorney reported the following cases settled as indicated in last week's issue, cases against Walter Hoffman, John Delap, Wm. Hawkins, Clayton Reynolds and Huber Penn.

The case of Com. vs. Lewis Culp of McSherrystown, charged with maintaining a public nuisance in emptying cuspidors on gutter and allowing beer and bar room waste to run in gutter was not pressed, defendant agreeing to abate nuisance.

Three prisoners were sentenced. Thomas Kelly charged with being a tramp was allowed to go on his promise never to return to county as a tramp and to be of good behavior for a year.

Daniel Roberts charged with indecent exposure while drunk pleaded guilty and was paroled on condition of good behavior for a year.

Wm. M. Robbins, plead guilty to false pretense in passing worthless checks on John Raymond and John Fagan. The sentence was suspended on condition that defendant reimburse John Raymond to the amount of his loss, $15, and John Fagan for $9.

August Court.

All judges were present on Monday morning when the regular August court convened.

The reports of the constables were first received and there has not been a court for many sessions at which so many complaints about the condition of the roads and bridges were made, due as some of the constables said, to the rainy season we have had.

In Latimore township the bridge across run on road from Bermudian Church to Bragtown was out of repair by reason of sinking and floods.

In Bendersville Liberty Lane is impassable and bridge on lane in bad repair.

In Franklin several bridges in bad shape.

In Butler road from Pine Grove road to Possum Creek on Menallen road out of repair. Many large stones on road. Index board at C. Deardorff's down.

In Cumberland roads were not all in good condition but will be fixed this week.

In Huntingdon road from State road to Calvin Linah's out of repair.

In Mt. Joy a few index boards were not up, will see supervisor and have them put up.

In Highland roads out of repair from McKnightstown to Knoxlyn, from Knoxlyn to Fairfield road, new road leading from Fairfield road.

In Mt. Pleasant a number of roads are out of repair, caused by the heavy rains. Gettysburg road from Low Dutch road to the township line. Index board not up at corner of Gettysburg and Hunterstown road, and on Mt. Rock road that leads to Lilly's Mill.

In Reading road from lands of Uriah Jacobs to East Berlin bridge in bad condition in places, road between land of Ellie Sowers and John B. Bosserman and others, bushes along side of road and side drains closed in places.

In Straban road from Weaver's blacksmith shop to Bonneauville road and Bonneauville road from Swishers place to Mt. Pleasant line needing repair.

In Tyrone roads from Gardner's Station to Mountain View School House and from Elmer Crum's to Frank Sipsers' needs repairs.

Five bastards were reported in Franklin one, mother Alice Wingert, reputed father Geo. McCauslin. In Hamiltonban one, mother Harriet Reasman, reputed father Chas. Kauffman. In Oxford one, mother Marjorie Melhorn, reputed father Fred. Kappes. In Berwick one, mother Edna Lehigh, reputed father Samuel A. Stump, Jr. In third ward one, mother Eva Cuff, and she would not give name of father.

The Grand Jury of the nine bills sworn. Ex-Prothonotary W. A. Taughnbaugh was appointed foreman. They were charged on their duties.

The Grand Jury and of the nine bills of indictment presented to them found eight true bills and ignored one and were finally discharged on Monday afternoon. The following bills were acted upon by the Grand Jury.

Com. vs. Carmen Gracey, charged with assault and battery on information of Louisa Gracey was found a true bill.

Com. vs. Maggie Stevens, charged with larceny of $5 on information of Geo. H. Seaks was found a true bill.

Com. vs. John Fissel, charged with assault and battery on information of Elizabeth Starner was found a true bill.

Com. vs. Harry R. Myers, charged with carrying concealed weapons, a revolver, on information of C. W. Wilson, was found a true bill.

Com. vs. Lena Bivens, charged with indecency on streets of Gettysburg on information of John Shealer, was found a true bill.

Com. vs. Charles Noel, Sr., charged with assault and battery on information of Lydia Ann Noel was found not a true bill and county to pay costs.

Com. vs. Leo Marshall, charged with malicious mischief, breaking a window in house of Theresa Rang, was found a true bill.

Com. vs. Howard Cole, charged with larceny of a bicycle worth $22 on information of Lester Bowers, was found a true bill.

Com. vs. Rolla D. Finkenbinder, charged with bigamy in marrying Jennie Thomas on information of John Shealer was found a true bill. The defendant was not in court to answer the charge and the recognizance in $500 for his appearance was ordered to be forfeited. It is to be hoped that the defendant will be apprehended as the forfeiture of the recognizance would be unusually distressing. It is said that the father of the second wife put up in good faith, all the savings of himself and family and the loss would be a hard blow to them.

Carmen Gracey was tried and convicted. Trial of Bivens commenced and was concluded by plea of guilty, and the whole criminal list was disposed of by Tuesday noon.

Wm. Hauey plead guilty to assault and battery and paid a fine of $10 and costs. Wm. Upton, Jr., paid a similar fine and costs for a like offense. Sentences were suspended in cases of Anthony Joyce and Wm. A. Hoag, guilty of larceny of razor, and of Robert M. Reed, guilty of larceny of a revolver.

College Buildings for Anniversary.

Gettysburg, Pa., Aug. 23.—The Pennsylvania Gettysburg Battlefield Commission having in charge the arrangements for the celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg July 1-4th, 1913, are negotiating with the authorities of Gettysburg College for the use of the college buildings to house and entertain the President of the United States, his Cabinet, the Foreign Ambassadors to the celebration, the Diplomatic Corps, and other distinguished guests during their stay here. The college campus lies between the two lines of battle and the bloody fight of the first day passed through it. Three of the buildings it is proposed to use in taking care of the notables were used as hospitals during and after the battle. The tower of one of them, the historic Pennsylvania Hall, was used by General Reynolds of the Federal Army and General Lee of the Confederate Army for observation purposes. General Louis Wagner of Philadelphia, chairman of the commission has this matter in charge.

The Smithsonian Institute of Washington has just donated to Gettysburg College an extremely valuable collection of thousands of geological and biological specimens for class-room use. To Hon. Daniel F. Lefane of York, Pa., member of congress from this district, a very large measure of credit is due for the securing of this complete collection of rare specimens for the college.

Luther A. Brewer of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a member of '33, Gettysburg College, has provided for a prize of $25 for excellence in Greek to be awarded annually to a student of the college. Mr. Brewer is a publisher, Iowa. He was a member of the committee which notified President Taft of his nomination by the Chicago Convention.

Indications point to the largest entering class in the history of the College, the increase over last year's freshman class being at least 33 1-3 per cent. Some of this is due to the new engineering courses offered.

Baltimore Captures Co. Teacher.

Adams county will lose one of its best teachers in the coming year. Miss Bernadina Corrigan has resigned her school in McSherrystown and has accepted a position in a Baltimore School and will leave on Aug. 31 to take her new position.

Miss Corrigan has never taught in any other place than McSherrystown and was devoted to her task. To her is due the credit of establishing a flourishing school library. She has been the recording secretary of the annual teachers' institute for years and her work has always been successful and commended for its thoroughness.

The position of the school board of McSherrystown in permitting a condition to arise so as to lose the services of Miss Corrigan can not be understood. The school board of McSherrystown are trying to run the public schools of the second borough in the county without levying a single mill of tax. They are making the attempt to pay all bills out of the $1 head tax and the State appropriation and in order to make ends meet asked Miss Corrigan to take a lower salary.

After Miss Corrigan had given years of service to the schools of that town, making them better and more efficient, it is inconceivable that directors would attempt to lower wages to save taxation and not have levied some mill taxation to have been able to raise salary and retained their teacher. This is an illustration of how the country fails to reward the tried and successful teacher to lose her to a city where better treatment is accorded.

L. M. Buehler's Success.

L. M. Buehler the enterprising drugist rather than await the ordinary methods of introduction, urged the Dr. Howard Co. to secure a quick sale for their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia by offering the regular 50c bottle at half price.

In addition to selling a 50c bottle of Dr. Howard's specific for 25c L. M. Buehler has so much faith in the remedy that he will refund the money to anyone whom it does not cure.

When your head aches, your stomach does not digest food easily and naturally when there is constipation, specks before the eyes, tired feeling, dizziness, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, heart burn, sour stomach, roaring or ringing in the ears, melancholy and liver troubles Dr. Howard's specific will cure you. If it does not it will not cost you a cent.

This latest achievement of science if of great value in curing sick headaches thousands of women are to day free from that painful disease solely through the use of this specific.

Post Office Closed on Sunday.

In accordance with an order from the Department, the Gettysburg post-office will not be open on Sundays from 2 to 3 P. M. as formerly. This order is in compliance with the Post Office Appropriation Act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, which provides as follows:

"That hereafter post offices of the first and second class shall not be opened on Sunday for the purpose of delivering mail to the general public, but this provision shall not prevent the prompt delivery of special delivery mail."

C. WM. BEALES, P. M.

Busy on Highways.

Assistant Engineer Edward S. Frey of the State Highway Department is busy pushing work on the state roads taken over under the Sprout Act. As many of the objectionable bumpers as possible are being eliminated, roads are being dragged and broken stone placed at places. Terra cotta pipes are being laid where found necessary and other repairs made. A new coller is expected this week and work on road between Gettysburg and New Oxford will upon its arrival be pushed ahead with a larger force of men. Operations have been proceeding on the New Oxford end for some time. The road will have eight new concrete culverts, one of which is now completed and three others are nearing completion.

The roads from Gettysburg to Fairfield and from Gettysburg to Biglerville will also be given attention while the road from Gettysburg to Harrisburg, improved several weeks ago by the removal of breakers, gets dragging after each series of heavy rains. The two miles of "state" road near Hunterstown will be started this week, it is thought.

Senator Martin Visits Franklin Co.

Senator Wm. A. Martin visited Chambersburg last Saturday. The Democratic County Committee of Franklin county was in session, Parker R. Skinner having resigned as County Chairman, by reason of conflict with his position at the Scotland Home, his successor was to be chosen and Dr. John M. Gelvix of Chambersburg was elected on the first ballot. After short speech by Dr. Gelvix Senator Martin was invited to address the County Committee. He regarded the work his friends have done in Adams county as most effective and he had heard nothing but good reports from Franklin and declared he was at the call of the party whenever he could be of aid to it in either county.

The Democrats of Franklin are preparing to make a hustling, energetic campaign as it looks as though there would be in that county a Republican and Bull Moose ticket.

Gettysburg's Lecturer Itinerary.

George L. Kieffer will deliver his lecture on "Gettysburg in Picture and Story" eighteen times in the next three weeks. He is appearing under management of Pennsylvania Chautauqua Association of Swarthmore, conducted by Dr. Paul M. Pearson. He will say a good word for Gettysburg wherever he goes and will appear as follows:

J.; Aug. 28, Mauch Chunk, Pa.; Aug. 29, Tamaqua, Pa.; Aug. 30, Chambersburg, Pa.; Aug. 31, Westminister, Md.; Sept. 2, Belair, Md.; Sept. 3, Lebanon, Pa.; Sept. 4, Hershey, Pa.; Sept. 5, Phoenixville, Pa.; Sept. 6, Oxford, Pa.; Sept. 7, Kennett Square, Pa.; Sept. 9, Easton, Md.; Sept. 10, Pocomoke, Md.; Sept. 11, Crisfield, Md.; Sept. 12, Salisbury, Md.; Sept. 13, Glenolden, Pa.; Sept. 14, Lewistown, Pa.

Buttonwood Stock Farm Horses.

The Buttonwood Stock Farm near this place has some promising campaigners this season, and they will likely be heard from on the racing circuits. A string was shipped to New York last week and this is what they have been doing in training:

"Betty Hale" worked a mile in 2:55—last quarter in 40 seconds. She is a yearling, by "Senator Hale".

Dolly Corhato, worked in company, went a mile in 2:25—last quarter in 31 1-2 seconds.

"Punch" worked a mile in 2:28 1-4—last quarter in 34 1-2 seconds.

"May Queen" made a mile in 2:40—last quarter 37 seconds.

"Baroness Jay," another "Senator Hale" descendant, went in 2:35 1-4—last quarter 35 1-4 seconds.

"Bobbie Hale," a 2-year-old, worked in 2:28 1-4—last quarter, 36 seconds.

Another yearling of "Senator Hale" stepped one-eighth of a mile in 1:18 1-2 seconds.

They also have another lot of good young stock, including a trotter, "Pat Hagerson," by Major Hagerson.

Robbers Visit Mill and Store.

A few nights ago thieves entered the mill of A. F. Roudoush near Aspers and were busily at work when they made a little noise which was heard by an employee of Mr. Roudoush, who lives nearby. This employee, C. A. Eisenhart, armed himself with a revolver and a gun and started for the mill, but the burglars heard him coming and beat a retreat while he fired several shots after them.

The same night Mrs. Lydia Eichelberger's store near the same place was also approached by the burglars who were unsuccessful in their efforts to gain entrance.

A Centennial Anniversary.

The Rev. David Willis, D.D., of Washington, D. C., will deliver a discourse on next Sunday afternoon, Sept. 1, in the Mennonite Church at Mummaburg, on the one hundredth anniversary of the origin of that village. Dr. Willis was born more than eighty years ago in that place and will speak of all the families and friends who have lived in and around Mummaburg for the past one hundred years. Dr. Willis is the oldest living chaplain in the United States Army.

This service will be at 7 p. m.

One Colored Excursion.

There will be only one colored excursion this season from Baltimore to Gettysburg. This excursion will be run by the combined colored G. A. R. Posts of Baltimore. It is the big excursion coming here every year and is likely to bring from four to six thousand excursionists.

The committee in charge announce that no drinking or misbehavior will be tolerated on the train or at Gettysburg as the excursion will be run for the benefit of the best element of the colored population of Baltimore.

BIRTH OF BULL MOOSE PARTY

MANAGED BY FLINN'S AGENT AND AN EX-OFFICIAL

Robt. M. Eldon Flops into Bull Moose Party But Holds on to G. O. P. Nomination.

A Bull Moose was born in Adams county on Tuesday evening of last week at Hunterstown. The event came about exactly as might be expected. Announcements were sent out from D. B. Allenman's office of the meeting, and it ought to be a good guess that D. B. A. would not work for Bull Moose Boss Flinn, who was willing to pay two million dollars for the Pa. U. S. Senatorship, without the customary thirty pieces for betrayal of his party in Adams.

Remembering that Chief Bull Moose Roosevelt received over $400,000 salary as a Republican president and was without gratitude to his party therefore it was to be expected that the nurse at the accouchement of a bull moose in Adams would be an ex-office holder, Wm. B. McIlhenny, who was indebted to the Republican party for 22 years of salary drawing as sheriff, deputy and postmaster at Gettysburg, and who is willing to tear his party to pieces for the chances of Bull Moose pap.

Our information is that there was not over 100 persons present at the Hunterstown meeting. Geo. M. Raifersperger called meeting to order and following permanent organization was effected. President, Hon. Wm. H. Tipton; Vice Presidents, H. V. Brown, Addison Leer, David A. Lott, B. H. Stitt, John A. Stallsmith, Philip N. Miller, Lewis McCadden, Howard Haverstock, Ambrose Tate and J. W. Taughnbaugh; Secretary, Frank S. Weaver.

Resolutions were adopted pledging support to the Progressive party and Chief Bull Moose Roosevelt.

Speech making closed meeting. The organ of Flinn's understudy in Adams in noticing meeting says, "The speech of Robt. C. Bair—was a little too rabid." Damning with faint praise extraordinary declarations and shielding the Bull Moose congressional candidate from the just criticism he is entitled to for outrageous assertions.

Mr. Bair attacked Mr. Taft for his religion. Then praised the high tariff responsible for the creation of thousands of Trusts during Roosevelt's terms. Then he lauded Big Bull Moose Roosevelt and in reviewing the work of Platt and Quay in trying to curb Roosevelt's ambition, made the outrageous foolish declaration that though he approached the thought reverently that the crack of the pistol and assassin's bullet in killing McKinley might have been an act of providence to bring Roosevelt to the presidency. It is surprising that any audience could be found in Adams county that would hear without protest, Providence accused of being accessory to the crime of murder in order to make a president of one who has betrayed his party to the Bull Moose for his own selfish purposes. It is said that Dr. C. E. Goldsborough desired to answer Bair but Wm. B. McIlhenny persuaded him not to do so.

When expressions were asked about the Bull Moose sentiment in county, Robt. M. Eldon, Republican nominee for assembly, arose and declared that he approved of such meetings, that Menallen township voters will not go to the polls unless they get what they want and are for a new party and then probably as paving the way for a denial of the fool things he was saying declared that what is read in newspapers is "all lies".

ARENDTSTVILLE.

Edwin R. Bushey is having the water piped through his house. Isaac P. Deardorff is doing the plumbing work. He is also putting down cement pavement in front of his house. Luther Rice has added new porches on two sides of his house. C. S. Rice has cement walks put down at his residence. Miss Ruth M. Trostle of near Gettysburg is a visitor in the home of her brother, Harry L. Trostle. Miss Ruth Taylor is visiting friends in Waynesboro and Greencastle. Hanson P. Arendt of Albany, Tex., who left here thirty-two years ago, is visiting his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Arendt and other relatives in this place. Mr. Samuel Young of Altoona spent the past week with relatives in this place. Rev. John G. Koser, wife and son John T., of Pittsburg, are the guests in the home of Rev. D. T. Koser, the former's father. Dr. Wm. E. Wolff with his wife and three children and Allen B. Trostle and wife have returned from a visit among relatives in Spring Run, Pa. Mrs. Frank Crum and three of her children from Dillsburg, spent several days last week in the home of Philip Bittinger and Christian Quickel. Last Saturday the real estate of Alex J. Bucher, deceased, was sold at public sale, 6 acres at $119 per acre, and 5 1-2 acres at $115 per acre to Emory E. Sheely, and 14 acres to James O. Hoffman at $104 per acre, and 1 1-2 acres to the widow, Mrs. H. J. Bucher at $186 per acre. Rev. T. C. Hesson will hold his harvest home service in the Reformed church in this place on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, Sept. 1st. Mrs. N. K. Schell and children, Hazel and Russell, of Altoona, E. E. Taylor of Newport, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Taylor and son Richard of Lancaster, S. J. Young of Altoona, I. L. Taylor and daughters Margaret and Marion, of Gettysburg, were visitors at the home of H. S. Raffensperger. Mr. and Mrs. Norris L. Minter and their three children of Gettysburg were recent guests in the home of his mother Mrs. Ellen M. Minter.

HAMMERS HALL.

John W. Currens, tenant on the Hammers' farm, has purchased the Mrs. Kate Horner property at Knox-lym for one thousand dollars. Mrs. Kate Horner, who recently returned from a Baltimore hospital, where she was treated for gall stones, had to be taken back again last Thursday for further treatment. John W. Currens on Saturday last took his wife to Harrisburg to a hospital to be operated upon for a tumor. Samuel J. Young of Altoona made a flying trip to these parts last week. Mr. Young served as an apprentice in the woolen manufacturing business under the late John Hammers. Forty years ago he pitched his tent in Altoona, and made a little fortune. Sixty years ago Mr. Tate of the Tate Hotel, Gettysburg, had this boy carry the mail from that place to Littlestown. Many of the older citizens of Gettysburg will remember Mr. Young in his boyhood days. On Aug. 31, at 1 p. m., a Sunday School celebration will be held at Pfoutz's Church. Rev. Jacob Hollinger of the Washington Mission and other ministers will address the celebration. On Saturday night and on Sabbath morning Rev. Hollinger will preach at Pfoutz's Church, and on Sunday evening at the Brethren Church in Gettysburg. A large supper will be prepared for the Sunday School celebration and the public are cordially invited to all these services. The Republicans in this neck of the woods do not take well to the Bull Moose' movements. They say its only a conspiracy on Roosevelt's part to bust up the Republican party. Every Roosevelt Republican we meet says if we could only get Talt out of the way. Roosevelt, like the Highland school board cares little for "majority rule." That is the reason he called a convention of his own, with no other candidate but himself to come before the convention; that is the reason he secured the nomination.

Like Finding Money.

L. M. Buehler, the popular druggist is making an offer that is just like finding money for he is selling a regular 50 cent bottle of Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia at half-price. In addition to this large discount he agrees to return the money to any purchaser whom the specific does not cure. It is quite unusual to be able to buy fifty cent pieces for a quarter, but that is what this offer really means, for it is only recently through the solicitation of Druggist L. M. Buehler that this medicine could be bought for less than fifty cents. He urged the proprietor to allow him to sell it at this reduced price for a little while, agreeing to sell a certain amount. The result has justified his good judgement for the sale has been something remarkable. Anyone who suffers with headache, dyspepsia, dizziness, sour stomach, specks before the eyes, or any liver trouble, should take advantage of this opportunity, for Dr. Howard's specific will cure all these troubles. But if by any chance it should not, L. M. Buehler will return your money.

Better Prices for Real Estate.

Real estate in Adams county has recently taken on a healthy growth in the last two years or more and is showing the upward tendency which has been the cause of a great many people who will declare, depending on one's own point of view. The good crops of recent years may have something to do with it. The higher price of wheat has unquestionably helped the situation. The development of apple orchards and orchard planting and good returns have beyond all doubt given an upward boost. Whatever benefits the farmer benefits the towns and that and other conditions keep up the prices in the towns of the county. Some of the recent sales are the following: On last Thursday the John G. Plank farm of 145 acres and 59 perches near Round Top in Cumberland township, was sold by J. Ed. Plank, executor, at public sale to O. B. Sharetts for $7230. The executors, George and Harry Miller, sold at public sale the farm of the late John Miller, in Union township, consisting of 76 acres, at $54.10 per acre. The purchaser was the tenant on the farm, Charles Clowser. George D. Baschlar and John A. Shorb, executors of the will of Ephraim Myers, late of Littlestown, sold at public sale, the 3-story dwelling, with store-room in Littlestown. The purchaser was George Kump, the merchant, of that place, who owns the adjoining property. The consideration was $21,600. C. D. Smith, administrator of the estate of Matilda Clunk, late of Hanover, sold the following real estate belonging to the estate of said decedent: A farm containing 81 acres and 25 perches, situated partly in Paradise township, York county, and partly in Hamilton township, Adams county, near the Paradise Rectory, improved with a large two-story brick house, large frame bank barn and all necessary outbuildings. The farm is a desirable one, and quite a number of persons attended the sale. The property was purchased by Eli Allard, tenant on the farm, at $64.05 per acre. A tract of woodland, containing 3 acres and 103 perches, situated in Paradise township, was also sold, the purchaser being Henry Sunday of East Berlin, at $27 an acre. W. E. Jacobs has sold his desirable home in Latimore township to Mrs. S. A. Paxton for $2500. William Day has purchased the property of James Davis in Huntingtown township containing 11 acres for $1000. Charles Millhimes, residing on the M. J. Ehrhart farm, near New Chester, has purchased from Geo. Krug, Hanover, the old Samuel Wagner farm near Hunterstown. The farm contains about 112 acres and the price is said to be $5000. W. A. Taughinbaugh, real estate agent, has sold the John Swisher farm along the Bonneauville road to Lester Bowers for $825. Possession April 1, 1913. I. V. Noel, of near Bonneauville, has purchased on private terms, the house and lot of Wm. Ruttens in Mt. Pleasant township. Mervin Miller of near Horner's school house, Mt. Joy township, purchased the McSherry farm near Alloway's bridge. Terms private. The late home of John W. Stock, deceased, New Oxford, at present occupied by Dr. Ed. T. Anker and family, sold at public sale by the heirs, was purchased by J. H. Plymire at $1,950. It is the intention of the purchaser to have erected thereon an up-to-date moving picture and play-house. Mr. Plymire stated that he has not yet determined whether he will raze the dwelling and place the new building on the corner of the streets or whether he will have it erected on the vacant lot by the side of the dwelling. Mr. Plymire for several years has been operating large picture shows in different cities in the Western States. He was a former resident of New Oxford and conducted a restaurant in Gettysburg some years ago. James H. Reaver has sold his farm, known as the McHorn farm, in Mt. Joy township, containing 200 acres, to Charles E. Weikert of Cumberland township. Terms private.

Big Freshman Class at College.

Prospects are the very brightest for the largest Freshman class in the history of Gettysburg College. From reports at hand it is expected that this class will number 100 or more and a number of additions will be made to the other classes. This excellent outlook is due to a number of causes. The work for new students is being thoroughly done, the new courses are proving attractive and the new conditions here are bringing results. The new administration has aroused a confidence and enthusiasm that the institution has not known for years. The communities from which the college has drawn feel the effect of the harmonious and able management. They also feel the effect of the support given in the canvass for funds, for communities will send their sons where they are sending their money. Dr. Granville has had a very busy summer, almost the entire time being devoted to the canvass for money for the endowment fund and he has been successful and of the $90,000 remaining to be raised at commencement, about $10,000 of the amount has been raised. In the incoming Freshman class will be many athletes of some note and the various teams of the college will be much strengthened. Claude S. Beegle, the football captain who was married last spring, and about whose return there was some doubt will be here to lead his gridiron warriors. Improvements have been made at college during the summer. South College has been repainted inside. Carpenters have been making repairs in all the building and they have all been cleaned. The campus has never looked more beautiful and inviting. The improvements to the building on Washington street bought by the college and removal of all fences has given an opportunity for the inviting campus to be seen to better advantage as far away as the Reading station. Fair Dates. Agricultural exhibitions will be held in Southern Pennsylvania and States adjoining as follows: Grangers' picnic, Williams Grove, Aug. 24-31; Mid-Hudson Fair, Middletown, Pa., Sept. 10-13; Hanover Fair, Hanover, Pa., Sept. 17-20; Interstate Fair, Trenton, N. J., Oct. 1-4; Lancaster Fair, Lancaster, Oct. 1-4; Cumberland County Fair, Carlisle, Sept. 24-27; York Fair, York, Oct. 7-11; Hagerstown Fair, Oct. 15-18; Frederick Fair, Oct. 22-25. Enjoyable Picnics. The Union Sunday School picnic at Round Top moved to be an enjoyable occasion and was largely attended. The Citizens Band played during the evening. The Firemen's picnic at same place on Saturday evening was somewhat marred by the rain. There was a large attendance and a good time. The band played in the evening and there was dancing. The Firemen had net proceeds from picnic of $82.95.

Congressional Situation.

The outlook at the present time is for three candidates for congress in the Twentieth Pennsylvania Congressional District. The Democratic nominee as selected by the Democratic voters at the primaries, Andrew R. Bioddeck, will have the united and full Democratic support at the polls and with the opposition divided will be elected beyond all doubt. This big Democratic district will this year elect a Democrat to support Wilson in a Democratic House in all Democratic legislation that is going to give the people of this country a new era in government. The Republican voters at the primaries selected Daniel F. Lafean as the candidate of that party after he had announced that he was not a candidate. He has not announced his acceptance of the nomination, and whether he accepts or not to be a safe guess that the Republican party will make a nomination in the district. The Bull Moose or Washington Progressive party will have a congressional candidate, not selected at any primary, and according to the York papers of last week it looks as though the nominee has been selected by one D. B. Alleman, whoever he may be. This Bull Moose boss declared in York last week that "as to the congressional nominee we have determined (without any knowledge whatever to him) upon Robert C. Bair, Esq., of York, a man whom I believe sufficiently strong and popular to carry the district." There is evidently another belief coming to D. B. A. in his game of playing little Bull Moose boss to Big Boss Bill Flinn. A reporter in York asked Mr. Bair this question: "Should the Washington Progressive party offer you the congressional nomination, would you accept?" Mr. Bair's reply to the question was as follows: "I have not been and I am not an aspirant for congress, or for any office, but I have also said—and I want to be understood at my best—that in political times of so great importance as now, that it is my conviction, that it would not be courageous or patriotic for any man to refuse a nomination which had come to him unsought, uninspired, save by the will of his constituents themselves. Having said this much of every other man, why should I say less for myself? I believe that Theodore Roosevelt touched the point when he said: 'The fight is worth making, win or lose. In this instance, as in any other, the fight should be made by any man on whom the Washington Progressive party may lay the responsibility.'" Mr. Bair does not seem to consider the question from the point of view as coming from a little bull moose boss.

The 1912 Apple Crop.

The Fruit Growers' Association, of Adams County held their 101st regular meeting on last Saturday evening in Fruit Growers' Hall, Bendersville. The meeting was entirely devoted to a consideration of the apple crop of this year. Reports were on hand verbally and by letter from every portion of the fruit growing section of the county. Some reports contained estimates as low as 33 per cent. of last year's crop while others by reason of new orchards coming into bearing were 150 per cent higher than last year. Averaging the reports with the crop from new orchards, Adams county may look for not less than 50 per cent. of the crop of 1911. Those best acquainted with the apple say that it is very difficult to estimate the crop at this time of the year and that experience has shown that the crop will be underestimated and that the total will run ahead of estimates. Last year's crop was worth nearly a third of a million dollars. Other parts of the country are reporting a less crop and it is possible that when the harvest comes whatever the crop may be will be worth almost as much as last year.

Complaint Against Hackmen.

The complaint of four women tourists to the National Park Commission of unfair treatment from a hackman on Sunday is only what may be expected from time to time, specially during crowded conditions. We have been saying for years that the hackmen should govern themselves or it will come to pass that they will be regulated by others. Self-government is the best but there has been nothing of the kind attempted. The Battlefield Commission and the Borough can do the trick whenever they choose by joint action. The fair name of the town demands that the people coming here in 1913 be protected. The two bodies named should confer, hear the hackmen about measures and regulations and then adopt what would seem best.

MRS. TOM'S PART IN THE ELECTION

Governor Marshall's Wife Has the Memory for Names.

ROMANCE OF THEIR LIVES

The Notification of the Indiana Executive For Democratic Vice Presidency Honors a Record Breaker.

By J. C. HAMMOND,
Of Democratic National Publicity Bureau.

Indianapolis.—Just about the time that thousands of friends of Governor Thomas Riley Marshall were anxiously waiting to shake his hand in congratulation on his acceptance as candidate for vice president on the Democratic ticket, a smiling woman stepped before him, and if one could have heard what she whispered in his ear it would have been something like "Now, hurry in, Tom, and change your clothes."

And Tom Marshall forgot to shake hands with the enthusiastic friends until he had carried out the orders of Mrs. Tom.

Indiana has honored four of her sons as vice presidential candidates on the Democratic ticket, but the crowds that some of the handshaking and take care of his health first. So when you find him making a speech, when he has finished he does not stay around to hear the applause of the audience. Rather, he hurries to his room and changes his clothing.

"Some people have said that Tom Marshall is not a handshaking politician. He is not. His wife thinks it is more important to guard his health than to carry out the old time policy, and she is correct, as she is in most all other things."

"Home Air" Prevails.
The Marshall home is typical of the mistress. It is a home of books, and still one does not feel "bookish." One of the Marshall friends said he always felt like eating when he entered the Marshall home in Columbia City or the executive mansion at Indianapolis.

Mrs. Marshall believes in a home first, and the "home air" prevails.

"If Governor Marshall ever occupied the White House people would not know that historic institution," declares an admirer. "Mrs. Marshall would have it a real home. People would feel comfortable even in the midst of the gold and glitter."

But it is not only as a wife and the mistress of a home that Mrs. Marshall shows her ability. She is a politician and a clever one. She also has a remarkable memory.

Governor Marshall has earned the reputation of being in a class of story tellers all by himself. He can remember stories, but he forgets names. A name is something to be cast aside with Governor Marshall, and this is one of the regrets of his life, if he has any regrets. The governor is not a worrying man. He is somewhat a fatalist, but it he could he would like to remember names; but, not having that ability, he does not worry. For Mrs. Marshall is the name rememberer of the family.

She has a peculiar ability along this line. Not only does she remember the last name, but any combination of names comes as second nature to her, and she carries this ability on down to the children and cousins of any one seeking the governor.

While the governor is shaking hands and trying to remember whether his caller is Jones or Smith, Mrs. Marshall is busy supplying the information and asking about all the relatives.

Ideal Partners.
Governor Marshall has no brothers or sisters, and his parents being dead leaves him somewhat barren of relatives.

Governor Marshall's friends are enthusiastic over his home life. When he has started on talking of his wife a new light in the Hoosier executive comes to the surface.

They come near being ideal married partners.

"I was talking to Tom one day," explained one of his most intimate friends. "We were leaning back, and Tom had been telling some of his good stories to illustrate various topics of our conversation. We were waiting for Mrs. Marshall to come back from a shopping tour, and I happened to remark that I liked Mrs. Marshall better every time I met her."

"Well, now that's the way she strikes me, Jim," he said, "We have been married some sixteen years, and as time goes that is a long or short period, just as you think. To me it is but a fleeting day. Then I think back over my married life and find I have grown to know Mrs. Marshall better every day. A man must not only love but he must also respect his partner in this life—respect her in all things. She must have wonderful qualities to make the love and respect grow deeper and better each day. That's been my history."

"The fact that Mrs. Marshall has been in sympathy in my work, my play, my life, is good. I have been in sympathy with hers. Ours is not a one sided life. We have been partners, and that's the way it should be in this world."

Mrs. Marshall has watched over his administration of the affairs of Indiana with a jealous care. There has been nothing of the spectacular in his administration. It has been a sane government. The laws that he has fought for and won show the spirit of the man. They are uplifting. They deal with the improvement of man, woman and child.

While Governor Marshall is described as a "tender hearted" executive, nevertheless, he is a fighter. He belongs to the old fighting stock of Virginia.

Governor Marshall is not a dodger. He has his opinions, and he lets them be known. While he is an organization man, he knows that organizations are not perfect—that they can make mistakes. If they make mistakes, he thinks it is his duty to set so and get the saying over at the first possible moment.

MRS. MARSHALL.

After the death of his parents Governor Marshall dived deeper into his law practice, and one day an urgent case took him to Angola, Ind. His duties called him to the county clerk's office, and there he met Miss Lois Kimsey, daughter of the county clerk, who was assisting her father in the office.

From that day Governor Marshall had more business around the county clerk's office in Angola than any lawyer in half a dozen nearby counties.

Governor Marshall was forty-two years of age when he was married, Mrs. Marshall being nearly twenty years his junior.

The Marshalls had been married only a few weeks when the future vice president was called to an adjoining county on a case that would consume some five or six weeks of his time.

"Now, I did not want to be starting off like that," Governor Marshall explained to a friend one day, "so I just told Mrs. Marshall that I thought she should go along. And she did."

Since then Governor Marshall has never made a trip without Mrs. Marshall going along. They have traveled all over the country together; they go to banquets and political meetings together until the friends of the Indiana executive refer to him and his wife as the "pards."

"Tom Marshall is not overstrong," explained one of his friends. "While not a delicate man, his constitution is not of the most vigorous type."

"When he gets into a political battle he forgets his weakness. He gives all that is in him, and that will tell on any man. Mrs. Marshall soon discovered that the governor would become heated in making a speech and the next day his voice would be husky. She decided that he had better give up

BREAKING IT OPEN AGAIN

—C. R. Macauley, New York World.

Mrs. Marshall is not satisfied with her domestic duties alone. She wants to do her share in problems of the political and business world. Mrs. Marshall is said to have discussed in detail with her husband his actions on the Baltimore convention, and when it was seen that Marshall was the man who was going to go on the ticket with Wilson he wanted to know what his wife thought about it.

"It won't be any harder than being Governor of Indiana, and if the party thinks you are the man it only agrees with my opinion," she said, and that settled the matter with Governor Marshall.

Mrs. Marshall had the honor of being the first woman in Indiana to hold an office. She was appointed county clerk of Steuben county by her father and held that office for a number of years.

When Governor Marshall and his wife were about to be married she decided that her last official act of the office would be to make out the marriage license. Governor Marshall accompanied his wife to the county clerk's office and watched her with care as she noted the records in the big book and filled out the license and watched her as she carefully signed her father's name, with her own as deputy.

Mrs. Marshall, having blotted the ink, said, "Now we can go."

"Not yet," laughed Governor Marshall.

"Why, we are all fixed," explained Mrs. Marshall, pointing to the license. "Yes, but I have to pay for it," replied the governor. "It's all right for you to make it out, but it's up to me to pay the fee." And he did.

Mrs. Marshall is a keen student, and, having established the practice of going with her husband on all his trips, be they short or long, they make it a point to carry along some book.

Mrs. Marshall is as much of a humanitarian as the governor. A glance at some of the bills that have been passed by the 1911 Indiana legislature gives an insight into the governor:

To curtail child labor.

To regulate sale of cold storage products.

To require hygienic schoolhouses and medical examination of children.

To prevent blindness at birth.

To regulate sale of cocaine and other drugs.

To provide free treatment for hydrophobia.

To establish public playgrounds.

To improve pure food laws.

To protect against loan sharks.

To provide police court matrons.

To prevent traffic in white slaves.

To permit night schools.

To require medical supplies as part of a train equipment.

Governor Marshall has also played an active part in providing for protection of labor, as is exemplified by the following acts:

To create a bureau of inspection for workshops, factories, mines and boilers.

To establish free employment agencies.

To require full train crews.

To require safety devices on switch engines.

To require efficient headlights on engines.

To require standard cabooses.

To provide weekly wage, etc.

And Governor Marshall has consulted with his "partner" on all these bills. He is quoted as saying a man can't go far wrong in taking the advice of a wife—if she is his partner as well as his wife.

The divided Republican party is like the boy "blowing against the wind." There will be a lot of bluster, but it will not take votes away from Wilson and Marshall.

Having exhausted his supply of adjectives in denouncing Taft, Roosevelt is now leading a campaign of denunciation of every one who does not agree with himself.

Farmers have pulled against the short end of the yoke long enough. Wilson and Marshall promise to see that the pulling is made more nearly even.

ROLLA WELLS IS EARLY ON THE JOB

Democratic National Treasurer Is After Small Contributor.

THE PEOPLE ARE TO HELP

There Is to Be No "Tainted Money"
Used in Electing Wilson and Marshall.

New York.—A small, smooth shaved, middle-aged man with a coat of tan that gave evidence of much outdoor life recently came into the Waldorf carrying a suit case early in the afternoon and registered as "Rolla Wells, St. Louis, Mo."

The smooth shaved little man, who is to be the watchdog of the Wilson campaign money from now on, was asked for vital statistics, whereupon it was learned at first hand that he is a banker and ex-mayor of St. Louis, is fifty-six years old, was graduated at Princeton in 1876, or three years before Governor Wilson was graduated; that he has two sons who are Princeton men and a grandson who some day will be a Princeton man; that he had no notion until the Wilson organization selected him as its treasurer and that just at present the one thing that sticks out in the appointment in his mind is that the new job cut in seriously upon a most beautiful vacation which he and Mrs. Wells had been enjoying in a camp at Little Traverse bay, Michigan.

Mr. Wells believes in getting at his desk at 8 o'clock in the morning.

"We are going to raise our campaign fund through the small contributions," said Mr. Wells.

"I am sure that a large part of the money will be raised by popular subscription."

"The people have confidence in Woodrow Wilson, and they will give what they can of their means to elect such a man president."

"I am a great believer in publishing broadcast, before and after election, the various contributions made."

"There are men who can well afford to give the committee $5,000, but I want to assure the public that we are not going to have any tainted money."

"We are appealing to the people, and we are relying on them to help elect Wilson and Marshall."

"I have two boys who have been graduated from Princeton, one five years ago and one seven. But it is not because ours is a Princeton family that I like Governor Wilson. He is a great big man and the type that we should have in public life."

Woodrow Wilson says this is not a time to be afraid to "speak out in meeting." That he was not afraid is demonstrated by his logical speech in accepting the Democratic nomination.

Roosevelt was willing to crawl from the White House to the capitol in 1903 if he could help his friend Root. Today he would like nothing better than meeting Root up a dark alley.

The Democrats are depending on the small contributor to help elect Wilson and Marshall. The appeal is being made to the people, and the people are responding.

The Democrats are not taking the election of Wilson for granted. They are working and working harder than in a score of years and working as a united party.

Farmers have awakened to the folly of the so called blessings of a protective tariff.

Winning with Wilson means more than a mere Democratic victory; it means restoring real prosperity.

TRY THIS "RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner IN YOUR OWN HOME 5 DAYS FREE

We want every woman in America to have the opportunity to try the "RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner in her own home. And to show our unbounded confidence in the machine, we've decided to send it out on 5 days free trial.

Use it as much as you like. Clean your carpets and rugs, your upholstery, curtains, walls, ceilings, mattresses, pillows, etc.

See for yourself how it makes everything as bright and new as the day it was bought. See how it cleans without raising a particle of dust, how it makes after dusting unnecessary. Watch it get the dirt from under heavy furniture behind radiators and from other inaccessible places.

Try the nine special attachments which we furnish with every machine—the hair-drying tool, the tools for cleaning clothes, book-shelves, etc.

"RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner

Compare this easy, pleasant method of cleaning with the disagreeable backaching drudgery of brooms, mops and dusters.

Put the machine in every test you can think of.

Then at the end of 5 days if you are willing to part with the machine simply notify us and we'll send for it.

On the other hand if you wish to keep the machine you can pay for it on Easy Monthly Payments out of the actual money which the machine saves for you.

A liberal discount will be allowed those who pay cash.

The experience of most purchasers is that the "RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner pays for itself in from twelve to thirty months.

It pays for itself, first, because it does away with the annual or semi-annual tear up called housecleaning (and housecleaning costs more than you think unless you have figured it out).

It pays for itself, second, because it doubles and triples the life of floorcoverings, hangings, furniture, wall paper, decorations, etc.

The "RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner weighs but 30 pounds. It can easily be carried upstairs, downstairs anywhere without the least fatigue. It is a truly portable cleaner.

A "RICHMOND" is built with a view to long durability and we cover it with the broadest possible guarantee. It is simple in construction. There is nothing to wear out. There are no gears, no diaphragms, no valves. Nothing to jiggle loose. To operate, simply attach to any electric lamp socket. Costs about one cent per hour to operate.

Surely you must see that the "RICHMOND" Suction Cleaner must give perfect service, perfect satisfaction, day after day, month after month, else we could not afford this offer.

But don't take our word for it. Find out for yourself. Try a machine at our risk. It doesn't make good—if it doesn't more than come up to your expectations, simply tell us to take it away. Could anything be more fair?

Remember it costs you nothing if you decide to keep the machine. All we ask is that $1.00 be deposited with us as evidence of good faith and to keep away triflers. The $1.00 will be refunded in case the machine is returned.

Prices Range from $40.00 to $85.00.

He was married twice, his first wife being Miss Margaret Basehoar, of Union township, who died January 20, 1884. From this union eleven children were born, eight boys and three girls, of whom the following are living: George F., Jacob S., Emory A., and Mrs. Louisa Grove, of Hanover, Charles B., of Taneytown, Md., Mrs. Della Myers, New Oxford, Morris E. Schwartz of near New Oxford, and Reiley of Gettysburg. In 1888 he was married to Mrs. Ellen Harnish, of Union township, who survives him. Last May Mr. and Mrs. Schwartz moved to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Louisa Grove, Hanover. Mr. Schwartz took deep interest in church affairs. He held the office of Elder in Christ Reformed church, near Littlestown, for about 40 years, and attended, on a number of occasions, the synodical meetings of the Reformed church. He served as superintendent of Christ Reformed Sunday School for many years. In politics he was a staunch Democrat, and was elected County Commissioner in 1881. He was also appointed to fill the unexpired term of a Jury Commissioner in 1896, and filled important township offices, such as tax collector, school director, etc. Funeral was on last Friday, Aug. 23, services and interment at Christ Church, near Littlestown, Rev. Dr. F. S. Lindaman officiating.

DANIEL H. MARKLEY, Esq., died at his home in York Springs on Sunday morning, August 18, at 2 o'clock from a stroke of paralysis. He was born near Shiremanstown, Cumberland county, March 7, 1828 and at the age of twelve moved to Fayetteville, Pa., where he grew to manhood's estate. Sixty years ago last April he was married to Anna C. Houck, of Centre Mills. Mr. Markley served in the Civil War as a member of Co. F, 91st Penn. Vols. He was engaged in the mercantile business in Idaville for many years and later moved to York Springs. He had been a justice of the peace in latter town for the past twenty-five years.

The funeral services occurred on Tuesday morning of last week with interment in Sunnyside cemetery. Rev. L. M. Gardner and Rev. Paul Gladfelter conducting the services. He is survived by a wife, one son, Dr. E. H. Markley, of Gettysburg; and three daughters, Mrs. E. C. Stock, of Baltimore; and Mrs. C. W. Gardner and Miss Jennie, of York Springs.

EX-SHERIFF SAMUEL ALLAND died at the home of his son, Charles Alland, in Dillsburg, Monday night, after a brief illness, the cause of death being heart trouble.

Sheriff Alland as he was known, was a son of Philip Alland, engaged in brick making in 1854, and followed it 9 years, then worked at car building at Hanover. In 1869 he took up farming. In 1874 went at brick making near Dillsburg. In 1880 was sheriff of York county. After expiration of his term took up farming near Dillsburg. He is survived by four sons, Philip A. of Cincinnati; Jerry H., of Harrisburg; Charles, of Dillsburg; and Daniel F., an attorney of Detroit. The funeral was held on last Thursday. WILLIAM SMALL, of Edgegrove, died in the Lancaster hospital, Thursday, Aug. 22nd, where he had gone for treatment for kidney trouble, aged about 75 years.

Mr. Small was born in Conowago township, Adams county, and was a son of John and Catherine Small. He is survived by a widow, who before marriage was Miss Emma Nace, of York county; two sisters, Mrs. William Poist, of McSherrystown, and Miss Jane Small, Edgegrove; two brothers, John J. Small of McSherrystown, and Frank Small, Gettysburg; also six sons and one daughter, Miss Edith Small, at home; Robert, of Chicago; Charles, of Harrisburg; Morris, in the U. S. Navy; Harry, at home; Walter and Norman, of Bittinger.

The funeral took place on Monday, Aug. 26, with a requiem mass in Conowago Chapel by Rev. Germanus Kohl. Interment on the family lot in the cemetery adjoining the chapel.

The deceased was a veteran of the Civil war, having enlisted August 19, 1862, in company K, 15th Pennsylvania Volunteer Cavalry, as a private, the regiment being known as Anderson's Cavalry. GEORGE A. JACOBS died six months ago but the news of his death at the Soldiers' Home at Danville, Ill., on February 23, has just been received. He was a veteran of the Civil War. Mr. Jacobs was aged 79 years and 21 days and his death was due to serious injuries received in a fall while walking on a pavement. He moved to Illinois about 48 years ago and was East to visit his friends two years ago. After dinner he sat on the front porch and talked with neighbors and friends. He was out front as late as four o'clock. When he went in the house he complained of not feeling well, and lay down on a couch. At 5.20 he was dead, and although a physician was summoned, when it was thought he was breathing his last, he was dead before the physician arrived. It is believed that heart trouble was the cause of his sudden death. Mr. McDermott was born in Monterey, Franklin county 71 years ago. He was a soldier in the war of the rebellion, having enlisted in Co. K, 197th Pa. Vol. Inf. Whilst detailed to drive a mule team in the army one of the mules became refractory and caused an accident in which Mr. McDermott sustained injuries that made him permanently a cripple. He was a member of the Evangelical Church of Mt. Holly Springs. Mr. McDermott was a most interesting relator of scenes in the Civil War. Only a Mask.

Many are not being benefited by the summer vacation as they should be. Now, notwithstanding much outdoor life, they are little if any stronger than they were. The tan on their faces is darker and makes them look healthier, but it is only a mask. They are still nervous, easily tired, upset by trifles, and they do not eat nor sleep well. What they need is what tones the nerves, perfects the digestion, creates appetite, and makes sleep refreshing, and that is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Pupils and teachers generally will find the chief purpose of the vacation best subserved by this great medicine which, as we know, "builds up the whole system."

Native Must Face Murder Charge.

A native of Adams county, Warren Sanders, will have to answer the most serious charge to be brought against a man, murder, in Lee county, Illinois. On Sunday, August 18, he killed his wife and mother-in-law at the railroad depot in Ashton, Lee county, Illinois.

Warren Sanders was born in Hamiltonban township, this county, moving west with his family and when the family returned to the county, he remained in the west.

About eight years ago Warren Sanders married Miss Wessie Griffith of Ashton, Ill. The marriage was not a happy one and the wife, finally left him, going to work in Chicago. The husband blamed Elton Lucky, a rich Ashton man for alienating the affections of his wife and accusing them of eloping to Ogden, Utah. Sanders brought suit against Lucky and recovered $7,000 damages.

But the collection of the damages did not satisfy him. It is said that he brooded over the affair and his family believed he was out of his head on the subject of his marital troubles.

They had a small daughter and she had been sent to the home of her grandmother, Mrs. George Griffith at Ashton on a visit, and on Sunday Aug. 18, Mrs. Wessie Sanders left Chicago on the Northwestern R. R. to visit her daughter. Warren Sanders was at the Ashton depot when the train arrived from Chicago and as his wife jumped from the train and took her daughter into her arms she was shot and killed by Warren Sanders. He then turned his gun upon his mother-in-law and shot to death Mrs. George Griffith. The crowd at the station gave chase to him and he might have suffered punishment at the hands of the mob but he reached a police station ahead of his pursuers and surrendered.

FAIR EXCHANGE.

A New Back for an Old One—How a Resident Made a Bad Back Strong.

The back aches at times with a dull indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless: piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Gettysburg citizen.

George Reiding, Hanover St., Gettysburg, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been beneficial when I have taken them and I recommend them for kidney complaint. My kidneys bothered me for years, causing pain in my back and sides. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did so. I felt better right away and was soon cured. Since then I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills several several times and they have always done good work."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

The Assistant Postmaster

The Misses Chilton's School for Girls was situated half a mile outside the village of Rockwell, and the number of pupils averaged forty. It was in part what is called a school of honor; the young ladies were permitted to take walks in the country, and visit the postoffice and candy stores in the village without being accompanied by a guard. It was understood that each pupil was on her honor not to flirt or elope.

The eldest Miss Chilton was forty-four years old, and her sister four years younger, and neither of them had ever been in love or expected to be. They were cut out for old maids and were very well satisfied.

For eight long years not a single one of the many good-looking girls of the Chilton School had flirted or eloped. It had given the Chilton sisters a sense of security such as a police force could not have established. It is only fair to explain that the farmers' sons within two miles of the school were always too busy chopping wood or hoeing potatoes to flirt, and that the village was a staid old place never visited by drummers.

Before putting the girls on their honor the Misses Chilton had carefully looked the field over. There were half a dozen young men, but they were lame and halt and homely. There was Deacon Bradshaw, a widower who dyed his hair and acted colty now and then, but the sisters figured that he would not dare go beyond certain bounds. No; the place was safe, and that was why the shock came with such force when it did come. There was a shock one summer morning. One of Mr. Dupont's powder magazines didn't blow up and level the cornstalks for ten miles around, but the shock shook Chilton School from cellar to garret.

Fanny, the elder sister, returned from the village one forenoon and fell in other sister's arms in hysterical mood. When she had been soothed and petted for five minutes she controlled her emotions sufficiently to exclaim:

"Flora, it is our ruin!"

"What?"

"There's—there's a young man in the village!"

"No-o-o!"

"I have seen him with my own eyes!"

"Impossible, sister!"

"And have found out all about him!"

"And he is an escaped convict?"

"Not exactly that, but almost as bad. Oh, sister, we shall have to close our school within a month!"

"But tell me."

The postmastership at the village of Rockwell had been held by an old war veteran for many years. He was falling all the time, and had finally sent out west and brought on a nephew of his and made him his assistant postmaster. This nephew was a young man named Clarence Sprague, and for smartness and good looks his like had never been seen in the village. He arrived one evening and took up his duties next morning. When half a dozen girls from the Chilton school rushed in at 11 o'clock, giggling, laughing and cutting up, there was a new face at the general delivery window—a new face and a good-looking one. The owner of that face smiled at them and flirted with them, and the very ran out with a great clatter and slapped each other on the back. Their day had come at last.

It is not to be imagined that those girls returned to the school to give the news to the old maid sisters and plead for protection. They returned to tell other girls, but to swear them to secrecy. The "discovery" was to be kept inviolate as long as possible. It was two weeks before the blow fell. During that fortnight there was more flirting in Rockwell than since the first log house was built by the first pioneer. Then the elder Miss Chilton dropped into the postoffice and saw with her own eyes and almost fell over in a faint. There were those who told her about the flirting, and when she reached home she was in a hysterical condition.

The first thing was an edict to prevent the pupils from visiting the village without permission, and there was dissatisfaction at once. There were even threats to leave the school. After three or four days of troubled minds the old maids solved the problem. They called on the postmaster and informed him that he must at once remove his nephew."

"But why?" asked the old vet, who had heard nothing of the gossip.

"Because he—he flirts with our pupils!"

"Don't blame him a darned bit! If I was a young feller I'd do the same."

"But he musn't! You hear—he musn't! It will break up our school."

"Nonsense! If you'd done a little flirting yourselves in days gone by you'd have been all the better for it. I want Clarence here, and here he will stay."

"Sir, we shall appeal to the postmaster-general!" was the awful threat, as the old maids retired.

And appeal they did, and right on the ground, too, that the assistant postmaster at Rockwell was a flirt and bringing discredit on the department. It isn't likely that the official read the letter or reply, but some clerk who sympathized with the assistant answered:

"Flirtations are not forbidden by the rules of this department unless they seriously interfere with the work of the official, and we do not think that is the case in this instance."

The Misses Chilton had been sure they could out the young man and drive him back toward sunset, and the failure was a great disappointment.

"I'll tell you what we must do," said the elder sister, as the case was talked over. "We must not forbid the young ladies going into town, but we must select the most steady and demure among them and have her act as chaperon for the rest. She can take up so much of that young man's time that he will have none left for flirtations."

These two old maids, brought up on oatmeal and the New Testament, and neither having ever been escorted home from prayer meeting by a man, thought they knew all about girl-nature! The "demure" girl they made chaperon was the biggest flirt in the school. She was a model chaperon while within sight of the school buildings, but once the village was reached it was:

"Now, girls, scatter and have a good time, but don't too many of you jam into the postoffice at once."

And as the days went past the Misses Chilton grew secure and complacent, and now and then the elder said:

"Sister Flora, you must give me credit for perspicacity in this case."

"I do, sister Fanny," was the reply.

"But for you our school would have been broken up by this time. Have there been any further reports of flirtations?"

"Not a one, sister."

"How grand to be able to understand human character!"

Two weeks later and then the whole world seemed to be spinning around like a top. One afternoon the "demure" chaperon was missed. Search was made, even under the beds and in the bureau drawers. It was extended into the country, but in vain. No one had seen a demure young lady of steady appearance paddling along through the dust. There were two persons in the school that got no sleep that night. When morning came they went to the postoffice in the hope of striking a clew. They were not disappointed. The old veteran was on duty, and at sight of them he rubbed his hands together and said:

"Come right in, ladies; I have solved the problem!"

"We are looking for Miss Blank," was the reply.

"And you've come to the right place. I lent Clarence my horse and buggy yesterday to drive off and marry her, and now all your troubles are over. He can't flirt with any of the rest of the school!"

Secret of the Sea.

A secret of the sea was partially revealed when the schooner Lily put in for water to a small island a hundred miles south of the Hawaiian Islands. A small cabin was found sheltered in a grove of palms, and, on crossing the threshold, the sailors were horrified to find the dead body of a man, sitting in a chair, his hand resting on a table, and firmly clasping a small book. Upon searching, there was found a compass, watch and chain and some cooking utensils. The book was a diary in which the man had set down the day's happenings, but not a word as to his name or how he came there. From the entries it was determined that he had been on the little island three years. The body was buried, and so ended the life of this unknown Crusoe.
